Letter & Reports

Who do you think you are?

We have just finished the month of January, a time when many of us make a New Year's resolution - did you make one this year? Whether it is eating healthier, saving better, or exercising more, most, if not all, New Year's resolutions are an attempt to improve ourselves in some way, shape, or form be that physically, relationally, spiritually, or some other -ally.

Any attempt at self-improvement is commendable, even biblical. Paul, in his letter to the church in Ephesus calls on them to 'put off your old self, which belongs to your former manner of life and is corrupt through deceitful desires, and to be renewed in the spirit of your minds, and to put on the new self, created after the likeness of God in true righteousness and holiness' (Eph. 4.22-24). As those who have received a clean slate and new life through the death and resurrection of Jesus Christ we are called to live differently, to live in 'righteousness and holiness' - we should all be seeking to do that every day.

As commendable and biblical self-improvement is, we need to be wary of who we are changing into. Too often in society today we find ourselves pressured to be a particular kind of person, encouraged to take the commonly held view on how we should live our lives, on what is a good and what is a bad way to live. As Paul says earlier in his letter to the Ephesians, we must not be those who are 'tossed to and fro and blown about by every wind of doctrine, by people's trickery…' rather 'we must grow up in every way into him who is the head, into Christ' (Eph. 4.14-15).

By the end of January most people have already given up on their New Year's resolution, whether that is you or not, I encourage you as we start the month of February to take up a new resolution - to become more like Christ because it is in him that we find our truest selves and in him that we are perfected (Colossians 1.27-28).

Revd Guy

IN A SACK.

Seen in a church magazine: "Bring your old newspapers (and your neighbours), put them in a sack and tie them if possible."

THE BELFRY BULLETIN

WITHOUT the sound of church bells, village life wouldn't be quite the same. Most Sundays, the bells of All Saints' ring out for morning service, occasionally they greet newly married couples as they leave the church, sometimes they mark local and national events, and in years gone by the bell ringers have followed the age old tradition of ringing the old year out and the new one in though, due to a shortage of ringers, the latter didn't happen this year.

To many people, church bells are musical instruments which sound as and when required. But at the end of every bell rope there is a person, a bell ringer. What's needed is a pool of people skilled and practised in the ancient art of bell ringing to ring for every occasion - one of them could be you. Please give it some thought.

On Saturday, December 17, a quarter peal of 1296 changes of Plain Bob Minor was rung in 41 minutes for the Candlelight Carol Service. The ringers were Patrick C Bridges, Matthew J Butler, Nicholas C Field, Josh D P Jones, George Tomlin and Thomas G A Wareing. It was conducted by Nick.

GIVING UP FOR LENT.

At the end of the pre-Lent sermon, the vicar suggested, as an example to the rest of the community, that the congregation should worship in an unheated church for the whole of Lent. As they made their way into the chill Sunday air the vicar addressed one member of the congregation, asking what she had decided to give up for Lent. "Church," she replied firmly.

CHURCH NEWS...

Three C – A Chat, a Cuppa, Communion.

Although the worst of the pandemic is over and life is returning to what it once was I am aware that there are many in our communities who are remain isolated or lonely unable to come to social events or church services.

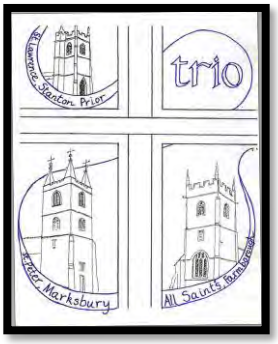

This may be because they are particularly vulnerable to COVID-19 or perhaps it is because the social activity they used to attend has now closed.

Whatever the reason, if you wish for some company over a cuppa or a service of home communion brought to you in the comfort of your house then please do contact me, I would love to visit you. Call me on 01761 754597 or email revdguy@gmail.com.

DON'T DIE.

The vicar announced: "I am sure that you will not wish to overwork our visiting priest while I am on holiday, and will keep funerals to a minimum."

Church activities as we enter lent…

Reading groups start 21st or 22nd of February.

"Come and re-examine what success and failure is and discover how the resurrection of Jesus - who looked like the ultimate failure on the cross - shows us that failure is never final and what often looks like failure turns out to be an incredible success."

'What did Jesus say about sin, mistakes, and generally mucking things up?'

'Everyone experiences failure at some point in their life, but what did Jesus think of it?'

Marksbury Prayer Diary.

In February we pray for the whole village, with special emphasis on the area from Whidcombe Farm and down the Street as far as the Green.

If anyone has a particular need for prayer (which will be treated confidentially), please contact Revd Guy (754597) or Judith (470317).

Thank you…….

Thank you to everyone in the Benefice who generously supported this year's Royal British Legion's Poppy Appeal, £1241.63 has been raised locally.

We have had great support from local businesses, Marksbury residents (£185.87), All Saints and our 2 Church Primary Schools and all the money raised goes to support veterans and their families.
This is my last year as Organiser for the Farmborough district and Ann Havell, who with Lucy Underwood, has worked on the distribution, collecting and counting over the last 2 years, has kindly agreed to take on the role so please look out for her next year.

Thank you Ann & Lucy for your support! NS

CAROL SINGING/HANDBELL RINGING

Many thanks to all those who turned out in the cold and rain before Christmas to sing carols and to ring handbells around the village in aid of our two children's charities.

The handbells sounded magical, especially on the frosty Friday evening.
We raised the magnificent sum of £379.98, which will be split between the Children's Society and NSPCC.

Congratulations! CRL.

And thanks to the generosity of our congregations..
All Saints were able to send to organisations they support..
Julian House £125.00 – Carol service collection
Children's Society £40.00 – Christingle service collection
Church Mission Society £95.17 – supporter's collection boxes JGJ

While St Peter's sent to organisations they support..
Julian House £141.00 – Christmas Day collection
Children's Society £109.00 – Christingle service collection
Dorothy House £195.55 – Carols on the Green JH

Finally…

Thank you to all who came & supported Marksbury Church January coffee morning, £196.50 was raised.

Farmborough & Marksbury Schools

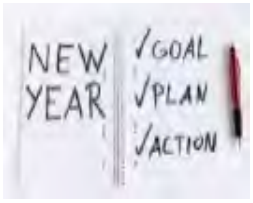

Take a look at their websites to find out more about life at our schools.

https://www.farmboroughchurchprimary.org.uk/

https://www.marksburyschool.org.uk/

The Christian Value focus this term is

PERSEVERANCE

Both schools have been focussing on this by thinking about their New Year's resolutions and how they are persevering and working hard to stay on track with their goals.

Revd. Guy has visited and talked about how many people give up very quickly on their resolutions! However, he reminded us that having a go at something, even when we feel we may fail, takes courage and determination and we need to be proud of all that we attempt. Perseverance is required when children have a goal or want to get better at something, at Marksbury this was linked to the practice that their budding musicians have to commit to, in order to improve. Both schools have highlighted that they appreciate the support of families in their child's learning by ensuring that they commit and persevere with their home learning activities.

Marksbury have been out & about in the village with a…

Church Visit.

Puddle class visited St Peter's church, as part of their RE focus this term on Special Places. Tony, our foundation governor, met them at St Peter's to show them around and share his knowledge about a variety of areas within the church as well as its history.

The children are now remembering our visit through pictures, which will be displayed within the church. School thanked Tony for sharing his knowledge.

Marksbury Mapping activity.

Due to the recent storms, school chose to stay local for Ocean's 'Explore' afternoon. The children studied maps of the village, following a route and making use of their compass knowledge, gained through last year's work. They searched for objects of significance detailed on the map, as well as noting how the hills and valleys we visit on our walks are depicted on the map.

Farmborough have been involved in a

Girls' football tournament.

When the team travelled to Norton Hill School for the district tournament they braved the extremely cold conditions and put in some fantastic performances. In the group stage, they won two and lost one and only narrowly missed out on a semi-final place by goal difference – just one goal! They then played one further match which ended in a draw. Well done to Freya, Summer, Sofia, Keira, Isla, Charlotte, Millie, Maisey, Poppy and Chloe for being a brilliant team and playing every game in a great spirit. Thank you as to family members for battling through the elements & giving their support.

that's just the beginning for 2023!

They have a great many more events taking place in the upcoming months, with visitors, trips, STEM Fortnight, Book Week, Church Services, music festivals and The Talent Show all eagerly anticipated.

There will also be plenty going on in sport, with tournaments and festivals in athletics, cross country, football, and gymnastics, to name but a few, as well as the excitement of The Dance Umbrella at the Forum to look forward to again.

For all the Saints

Spotlighting a brave life this month

You may think that to be a saint one must have lived a long time ago in some closeted monastery. However, this month's saint is within living memory of older readers because he died a martyr in 1977 and is commemorated yearly on 17th February.

Janani Luwum (1922 – 1977) was the archbishop of Uganda and an influential leader of the African Anglican church. He was arrested in February 1977 and died shortly after, murdered on the orders of President Idi Amin in a staged car crash. He is a reminder that brave Christians speak truth to power.

Archbishop Luwum delivered a note of protest to dictator Idi Amin against the policies of arbitrary killings and unexplained disappearances. Shortly afterwards the archbishop and other leading churchmen were accused of treason. Luwum was arrested together with two cabinet ministers. The same day, Idi Amin convened a rally in Kampala with the three accused present, to hear trumped-up charges recited to them before thousands of excited and ill-informed Amin supporters. The archbishop was accused of being a spy and planning to stage a coup. The next day, Radio Uganda announced that the three had been killed when the car transporting them to an interrogation centre had collided with another vehicle. In fact, they had been tortured, shot and their bodies had been packed into a car which was deliberately crashed. Amin's dictatorship, from 1971 to 1979, was characterised by rampant human rights abuses, including political repression, ethnic persecution and extrajudicial killings, as well as nepotism, corruption, and gross economic mismanagement. Over 250,000 people were killed under his brutal regime. Archbishop Luwum has a statue in the 20th century martyrs' section of the west wall of Westminster Abbey, witnessing his brave stand against evil.

News in brief.

Ringing in the changes.

A set of church bells from St Peter and St Paul's, North Curry are the first to be cast with the new cypher of King Charles III. The community raised £150,000 for the bells to be recast and some have visited the foundry to witness the recasting, including the church's vicar, the Revd Simon Bale.

He says, "To see the bells actually poured into the cast is quite something. It's quite emotional, frankly. I was able to say a prayer of thanksgiving and of hope and gratitude as well for all this being done." The bells won't return to Somerset until later in the year.

Bath Abbey is hosting 'Threads through Creation'.

A stunning exhibition of twelve enormous, embroidered silk panels that explore the story of Creation.

Inspired by the verses of Genesis, the first book in the Bible, textile artist Jacqui Parkinson re-imagines this ancient story in a vibrant combination of layers of silk, hand-dyed materials, metallic leathers and gold leaf, miles of thread – and more than eight million stitches!

The exhibition opened in January and will run until 19 March.

Elizabeth Barrett Browning

How do I love thee? Let me count the ways.
I love thee to the depth and breadth and height
My soul can reach, when feeling out of sight
For the ends of being and ideal grace.
I love thee to the level of every day's
Most quiet need, by sun and candle-light.
I love thee freely, as men strive for right.
I love thee purely, as they turn from praise.
I love thee with the passion put to use
In my old griefs, and with my childhood's faith.
I love thee with a love I seemed to lose
With my lost saints. I love thee with the breath,
Smiles, tears, of all my life; and, if God choose,
I shall but love thee better after death.

Echo

Carol Ann Duffy

I think I was searching for treasures or stones in the clearest of pools
when your face …

when your face,
like the moon in a well
where I might wish …

might well wish
for the iced fire of your kiss;
only on water my lips, where your face …

where your face was reflected, lovely,
not really there when I turned to look behind at the emptying air …

the emptying air.

Flowers

Wendy Cope

Some men never think of it.
You did. You'd come along
And say you'd nearly brought me flowers
But something had gone wrong. The shop was closed. Or you had doubts –
The sort that minds like ours
Dream up incessantly. You thought
I might not want your flowers. It made me smile and hug you then.
Now I can only smile.
But, look, the flowers you nearly brought
Have lasted all this while.

I Wanna Be Yours...

John Cooper Clarke

5

I wanna be your vacuum cleaner
breathing in your dust
I wanna be your Ford Cortina
I will never rust

If you like your coffee hot
let me be your coffee pot
You call the shots
I wanna be yours

I wanna be your raincoat
for those frequent rainy days
I wanna be your dreamboat
when you want to sail away

Let me be your teddy bear
take me with you anywhere
I don't care
I wanna be yours

I wanna be your electric meter
I will not run out
I wanna be the electric heater you'll get cold without

I wanna be your setting lotion hold your hair in deep devotion Deep as the deep Atlantic Ocean that's how deep is my devotion.
