Letter & Reports

The Queen and God our King

As we come out of a time of national mourning after the death of Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II it seems apt to reflect on that time in my monthly letter to you all. During that time of mourning there was a real sense of unity, not just within the United Kingdom, or the Commonwealth, but across the globe. People from every corner of the world came to pay their respects to the Queen either by queuing to see her lying in state or by watching the funeral.

What was it about the Queen that brought out such a display of unity? Some say it was her almost permanent presence during their lifetimes, that her death marked the end of one era and the start of another. Others say that it was the life she led, one of service and duty, that endeared her to so many and brought about such displays of unity. I think both are true, but that they point to something much deeper within ourselves - our need for God.

The Queen, through her life and her duty, pointed us towards our deep need for God. Firstly, this unity behind the Queen, in an age where monarchies are quickly becoming a thing of the past, shows us there is something deep within us that acknowledges our need for a ruler, someone to show us the way. Earthly rulers - including the Queen - are flawed, but God, our creator and redeemer, shows us the way to life in all its fullness, so all may prosper under his rule. Secondly, I think the public affection for the Queen as a ruler, when so often we want to be the rulers of our own lives, is because her life of service and duty reflected in some way the life of service seen in Jesus Christ our saviour. Thirdly and finally, her permanent presence in our lives points us to our need for constancy which can only truly be found in the eternal - in God himself.

So as we mourn the death of our Queen, let us find hope in our true King, our constant presence and servant, Jesus Christ.

Revd Guy

THE BELFRY BULLETIN

NOT everyone will be affected or feel the same way about Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II and her death. There is no rule on how one should feel or grieve; there's just no right or wrong way.

We all knew it was inevitable, but hoped it would never happen; and so, within minutes of the announcement on September 8 that Her Majesty's life had come to an end, the Union Flag was lowered to half-mast on the church tower and the tenor bell tolled the "Tellers", two groups of three blows, followed by 96 strokes for Her Majesty's age and further tolling with the bell raised.

The ringing of church bells has marked every major event of the Queen's life. For her Diamond Jubilee, a new ring of eight bells was cast at the now closed Whitechapel Bell Foundry in East London. They were mounted on a barge and rung during the pageant which took place on the Thames before being rehung at the Church of St James, Garlickhythe in the City of London.

The sound of bells brings both joy and sadness, so it has been at this time of national mourning for our late Monarch and the Proclamation of our new King. In towers across the nation bell ringers have tolled or rung their bells. The day after the Queen's death, I joined ringers of other towers across the kingdom to toll again our half-muffled tenor bell. This bell has the inscription "I to the church the living call and to the grave doth summon all". It was tolled again for an hour, at minute intervals, prior to Her Majesty's Funeral Service. More ringing took place on Sunday September 11 to celebrate the Accession of our new Sovereign. One day soon, our bells will ring again, this time a joyful peal, for the coronation of King Charles III.

On Thursday September 1, a quarter peal consisting of 1296 changes of Cambridge Surprise Minor was rung in 35 minutes. It was dedicated to Geoffrey Chiswell Carter, a sportsman and a true man of Farmborough, whose funeral was held that day.

CHURCH NEWS...

Three C – A Chat, a Cuppa, Communion

Although the worst of the pandemic is over and life is returning to what it once was I am aware that there are many in our communities who are remain isolated or lonely unable to come to social events or church services.

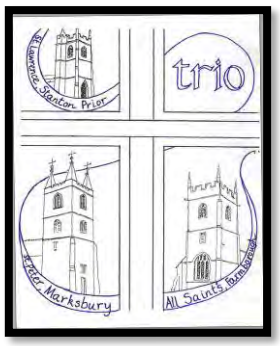

This may be because they are particularly vulnerable to COVID-19 or perhaps it is because the social activity they used to attend has now closed.

Whatever the reason, if you wish for some company over a cuppa or a service of home communion brought to you in the comfort of your house then please do contact me, I would love to visit you. Call me on 01761 754597 or email revdguy@gmail.com.

BABY SITTER PROBLEM?

A teacher asked her class "why did Joseph & Mary take Jesus with them to Jerusalem?"

A small child replied "because they couldn't get a baby sitter."

TRIO magazine...Marksbury residents.

Marksbury PCC would like to re-start delivering paper copies of TRIO in the village from November, initially for a trial period of one year. We know that the magazine used to be consulted regularly for church and village events, and because distribution had to stop during the pandemic, many who don't necessarily receive the online version have lost the monthly contact. Local donations will support the distribution.

Any subscriptions of £5 for the year will be welcomed, but are entirely voluntary. Your feedback will also be welcomed. JH

HYMN OR MATHS?

A father had taken his small son to church. The boy listened attentively without saying a word until the clergyman announced: "We will now sing hymn two hundred and twenty-two: 'Ten Thousand Times Ten Thousand', two hundred and twenty-two."

Alarmed, the little boy nudged his father. "Do we have to work this one out?"

To those who came to find out about staying safe at home... on September 17th at Marksbury Village Hall

The Police Crime Protection Officer for Bath and North East Somerset, and Neighbourhood Beat PCSO Rob Hendra made a visit to St Peter's Church Village Coffee Morning.

As well as enjoying coffee and biscuits, the Officers chatted to residents about protecting their property.

On display were a variety of security devices for everything from locks for Patio doors, enabling the door handles to be immobilised, to key safes, and more sturdy gate locks The advice was free!!

Many people came with items to be securely marked and could then be added to an online register. Most popular items were bicycles. It seems that Bath and North East Somerset Police area has the lowest number of burglaries!! Probably because of events like this, and the work of these officers.

Thank you for coming.

TEN COMMANDMENTS.

A teacher was discussing the Ten Commandments with her five & six year olds. After explaining the commandment 'Honour thy father & thy mother,' she asked,

"Is there a commandment that teaches us how to treat our brothers & sisters?"

Without missing a beat, one little boy answered,

"Thou shalt not kill."

The Christian Value focus this term is

Marksbury have continued to explore this term's Christian Value, they took time to think about how they can think about and respect others through prayer. It helped them write their own 'Hand Prayers' which will be displayed in the hall. They used their fingers to help them remember who in their lives we could pray for and why.

Stream Class at Marksbury have been learning more about Judaism and have made their own Torahs and wrote special messages inside, such as 'Be kind.', 'I love my Mum.' 'You make me happy.' and 'You make me smile!'

Respect was also the focus when Farmborough celebrated the Queen's life and gave thanks for everything that she has done for us all.

They also held a Harvest Service on September 27th, supporting Julian House again with their harvest collection. A representative from Julian House came to school and spoke to the children about the great work they do, it was the first service together since the pandemic as a whole school in the hall.

A PRAYER FOR McDONALD'S...

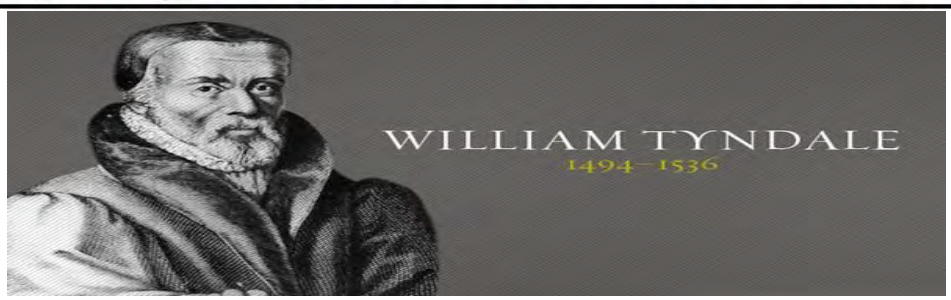

As my five-year-old son and I were heading to McDonald's one day, we passed a car accident. Usually when we see something terrible like that, we say a prayer for whoever might be hurt, so I pointed and said to my son, "We should pray."

An instant later a fervent prayer was heard in the back seat. "Dear God, please don't let those cars block the entrance to McDonald's."

For all the Saints

Spotlighting a brave life this month

William Tyndale was a translator of the bible into English. Up to this point few people could read the Bible unless they could first read Latin or Greek. Consequently, the Church was responsible for what it taught people about Jesus and the nature of God, and it tended to stress favourable passages from the bible that increased the power and riches of the clergy and omit passages that were contrary.

Martin Luther's translation of the bible into German appeared in 1522 and had revolutionary results. Tyndale's translation of the gospels in 1525 had similar results and King Henry VIII wanted him dead. Tyndale's was the first English bible to draw directly from Hebrew and Greek texts, and the first English translation to take advantage of the printing press. It was taken to be a direct challenge to the authority of the Catholic Church and English laws maintaining the church's position.

In 1530, Tyndale opposed Henry's VIII's annulment of his marriage to Catherine of Aragon on the grounds that it contravened scripture. He was now a wanted man with a ransom on his head and so he fled to the Netherlands where he felt he would be safe if he lived and worked incognito.

In 1535, Tyndale was arrested, and jailed near Brussels. In 1536, he was convicted of heresy and executed by strangulation, after which his body was burnt at the stake. His dying prayer was that the King of England's eyes would be opened - which happened just one year later with Henry's authorization of an English Bible, which was largely Tyndale's work.

In 1611, after seven years of work, the 47 scholars who produced the King James Version drew extensively from Tyndale's original bible. In 2002, Tyndale was placed 26th in the BBC's poll of the 100 Greatest Britons. MW

manna

Due to the death of Her Late Majesty, The Queen, there is not a full Manna mailing being issued for October but there is Bishop's letter

The same yesterday, today and forever

Many of us know well Bob Dylan's song 'The Times They Are A-Changin'. Was it written with us in mind? None of us could have predicted the changes that we have seen in 2022. The death of our beloved Queen Elizabeth, the accession of a new King, a war in Ukraine, a cost-of-living crisis. None of these were on the cards as we made our new year's resolutions on the 1st of January.

Yet happen they have. And whether we like it or not, we're forced to agree with Bob Dylan's lyrics that the times are indeed changing. What can see us though these days?

A phrase that's often used about the period through which we're going is 'unprecedented'. I'm not sure it's entirely valid! Previous generations have faced situations as challenging or more than ours – seasons of plagues, wars, famines and conquest. The times in which the New Testament was written were, for its writers, periods of profound uncertainty. Its writers faced violence and vulnerability, conflict and dispute. Yet into their times they were able to speak words of hope, confidence and assurance.

One such phrase that stands out for me is a line from the letter to the Hebrews. Hebrews was written in response to a time of persecution and the possibility of people falling back from the faith as a result. Into its time and ours, the writer of the letter makes an extraordinary claim: 'Jesus Christ is the same yesterday, today and forever.' (Hebrews 13:8)

Just imagine! The one who walked in Galilee has been there for his people throughout time, is with us now, and will be whatever the future may hold.

So respectfully, I have to disagree with Bob Dylan. In his song he tells us that in the face of times that are 'a-changin', we'd better start 'swimmin'. Much better than hyperactive splashing, I suggest, is to live out our vision to 'live and tell the story of Jesus'. For it's as we do so that we can hold fast to the one who is constant and unchanging, who holds us always in the palm of his hands; Jesus Christ who is 'the same yesterday, today and forever.'

Bishop Michael

Floral Tribute

By SIMON ARMITAGE
Poet laureate

Evening will come, however determined the late afternoon,
Limes and oaks in their last green flush, pearled in September mist.
I have conjured a lily to light these hours, a token of thanks,
Zones and auras of soft glare framing the brilliant globes.
A promise made and kept for life – that was your gift –
Because of which, here is a gift in return, glovewort to some,
Each shining bonnet guarded by stern lance-like leaves.
The country loaded its whole self into your slender hands,
Hands that can rest, now, relieved of a century's weight.

Evening has come. Rain on the black lochs and dark Munros.
Lily of the Valley, a namesake almost, a favourite flower
Interlaced with your famous bouquets, the restrained
Zeal and forceful grace of its lanterns, each inflorescence
A silent bell disguising a singular voice. A blurred new day
Breaks uncrowned on remote peaks and public parks, and
Everything turns on these luminous petals and deep roots,
This lily that thrives between spire and tree, whose brightness
Holds and glows beyond the life and border of its bloom.
